Hon. H. L. Dickey, and His Record.

He Votes against Sustaining the Government, in Putting Down Rebellion.

Hon. H. L. Dickey, the Democratic candidate for State Senator, was Representative of this county in the Legislature, in the winter of 1860-61, when the Rebellion commenced, by the secession of South Carolina and other States. On the 12th of January, 1861, the Senate passed by a unanimous vote, a series of joint resolutions on national affairs, and sent them to the House for its concurrence. The 8th Resolution is as follows:

"VIII. That we hail with joy the recent firm, dignified and patriotic Special Message of the President of the United States, and that the entire power and resources of Ohio are hereby pledged, whenever necessary and demanded, for the maintenance under strict subordination of the civil authority of the United States, and in favor of the general government, by whom soever administered."

Mr. Devore offered the following amendment to the 8th resolution:

"It is hereby declared that these resolutions are not to be regarded as an expression of opinion in favor of the coercion of such seceding States of this Union as have declared their allegiance to the same dissolved."

The question being taken on Mr.
Devore's amendment, it was lost, by yeas 23, nays 56, Mr. Dickey voting YEA, thus declaring himself against overriding the rebel States, which had already declared themselves out of the Union. He preferred to see the Union dissolved, rather than use force against his "Southern brethren."

The question on the adoption of the resolution as it stands was then taken, and it was adopted by yeas 74, nays 8.
—the yeas being Messrs. Converse, DICKEY, Devore, Hagley, Hutchinson, Ogil, Patterson and Shaw.

We thus see that Mr. Dickey was one of the eight Democrats who said by their votes, that they were not in favor of Ohio sustaining the Government in the maintenance of the Constitution and the laws. He not only voted against all the Republicans in the House, but against more than two-thirds of his own party.

Rebels Disfranchised by the Amendment.

Thousands of rebels from the South, whose hands are stained with the blood of Union soldiers, have already settled in Southern Ohio, and will vote this fall, with their Copperhead allies. Union soldiers, and friends of the soldiers, if you want to put a stop to these rebels voting hereafter, vote for the Constitutional Amendment, which disfranchises all who fought against the Government. Would you not rather give the ballot to a loyal negro, who fought for the Union, and will vote with the Union party, than to a white rebel, who fought to destroy the Union, and will vote with the party that kynph-thized with his efforts?

The death of a Mormon Bishop is announced. He was thirty-seven years old, and leaves an interesting family of eleven wives and forty-seven small children to mourn his loss.

Danger Ahead!

The President Plotting Violence to Congress.

Forewarned, Forearmed!

There is no longer any room to doubt that the reckless, bad man who occupies the Presidential chair, through the agency of Booth, the assassin, is plotting to resist Congress by force, in case that body shall attempt his impeachment, which it is certain to do as soon as it reassembles in November.
The evidence that he is preparing for something of this kind is daily accumulating, and can no longer be regarded with indifference. We ask the earnest attention of our readers to the following remarks of Senator Thayer, of Nebraska, in a speech made in Cincinnati last Saturday night, in which he shows that there is good reason to apprehend serious trouble, unless the people once more rise in their might, at the approaching elections in Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, and other Northern States, and administer such an overwhelming rebuke to the President as shall cause him to stop in his mad career before swift destruction overtakes him.

If the Union men, by their criminal neglect of duty, suffer Ohio to show a Copperhead gain in the coming election, Johnson will be encouraged to go on and carry out his wicked designs; but if every Union man does his duty, we will roll up such a majority for the Union ticket, and the Amendment, that he will not dare to risk a resort to force.

Read what Senator Thayer says, and let no consideration keep you from the polls on election day:

I have recently been in Maryland and the District of Columbia, having left Washington only night before last.
While there I took especial pains to inquire myself in regard to the present purpose of Andrew Johnson, and I obtained what I am about to state from reliable authority.

I declare, upon my responsibility as a Senator of the United States, THAT TO-DAY ANDREW JOHNSON
CONTemplates and designs FORCIBLE RESISTANCE TO THE AT-TITUDE OF CONGRESS. I make the statement deliberately, having derived it from unquestioned and unquestionable authority. I cannot point out the occasion on which he may attempt to use military force. It may be to prevent the assembling of Congress, or when assembling, if the House of Representatives passes articles of impeachment; or it may be for the purpose of forcing Southern Senators and Representatives into seats in Congress.
The question may be asked, "How can he do such a thing?" You recollect that this same Andrew Johnson was elected U. S. Senator, and that a few weeks afterward he declined the office, giving "grave reasons of State" as the cause. It was found that this same Andrew Johnson, who at that time could not be depended on for Johnson's purposes.

There is to-day a standing army in Maryland—an organized militia force, such as no other State in the Union has, and it is offered mainly by returned rebels. When the time comes which he looks for, under some pretext, Johnson may declare Maryland and the District of Columbia under martial law, and call upon Gov. Swann to bring forth his militia.

There is nothing that will deter Johnson from this purpose except, when the issue comes, that his courage may fail. I make this statement that the American people may know the danger that threatens their peace and safety. Said one of my informants of Pennsylvania and New York give Democratic majorities in the coming election, it will embolden him to carry out his purpose. And I hope you, the people of Ohio, will be warned in time, and so cast your votes as to rebuke and prevent the mad designs of this bad man, who is now acting President of the United States.

But gentlemen, let me say to you that whenever Johnson attempts force and orders any soldiers he may have under his command, to resist the authority of Congress, his doom is sealed.
(Great applause.) The fate from which he has preserved the traitor Jefferson Davis, will be meted out to him.
(Applause.) Aye, when that time comes, five hundred thousand men from Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio, will leap to arms and tramp the sold of Maryland, to reach the beleaguered and rescued traitor Jefferson Davis, and then they will march to the hands of rebels and traitors. (Great cheers.)

Second Congressional District.

A lively contest is going on in the Second Cincinnati District, for a Representative to succeed Gen. Hayes.
Richard Smith, Esq., the able editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, was nominated by the Union Convention, over Gen. Samuel F. Cary, the well-known Temperance orator, whereupon Gen.
Cary got himself nominated as a "working man's candidate," and is running independently. He avows himself in favor of the new-fangled Democratic repudiation scheme of paying off the national debt in "greenbacks." There being a large Union majority in the District, the Democracy have no hope of electing one of their own party, so they have made no nomination, and the Enquirer is trying hard to get the party to support Cary. The dose is too strong, however, for some of the hardshells, and they have brought out Charles Beemlin as a Democratic candidate. Mr.
Beemlin says he won't run, and so matters stand. Cary is making an active canvass, and being rather a popular speaker, and a native of Cincinnati, he may draw off a few hundred votes from Smith, but he cannot succeed in getting the whole Democratic vote, and therefore has no chance of election. He is only ruining his future political prospects by the course he is taking.

Meeting of Republican Gov- ernors.

It is stated that the Republican Governors of the loyal States will meet about the 1st of October, either at Chicago, Washington, or Philadelphia, to consult as to the condition of public affairs. The factious course of the President and the threats of his designs, render such a meeting eminently proper and advisable.

MOX. JON E. STEVENSON, formerly State Senator of this district, but now of Cincinnati, is doing good service in the Union cause in the present canvass.
He spoke to a crowded house at Mozart Hall on Monday night of last week. The Gazette reports his speech in full, and remarks that "he made many fine speeches during the campaign, but none superior to that which is herewith published."

Our State Senator.

This Senatorial district, composed of Ross and Highland counties, is one of those which the Copperheads say they expect to carry, and they are making desperate efforts to do so.
Relying upon the strong prejudices against the Suffrage Amendment in Ross county, they are working hard in that part of the District, to make converts from the Union party, hoping thus to increase their last year's majority in Ross enough to overcome the Union majority in this county.
We are reliably informed that money is being freely spent in Ross county, by the friends of Dickey, the Copperhead candidate to secure his election, and gain one vote for Vallandigham for U. S. Senator. We don't believe the Union men of old Ross will permit these efforts to defeat our able and popular candidate, Mr. Clark, if such a result can be avoided by active and energetic work on their part; and we call upon the Union men of Highland to do their share in aid of his election. Let us give him such a majority in Highland as will prevent all danger of his defeat, even the Copper-heads should gain largely in Ross.
We can give him at least 40 majority, if we try. Let every Union man determine that it shall be done.

Last Grand Rally at Greenfield.

There will be another grand Union rally at Greenfield on Saturday, October 5th, when the people will be addressed by Hon. Sam. Galloway, Gov. Cox, and "Duncan Gray," formerly of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, whose scathing exposure of Judge Thurman's tender treatment of rebel prisoners at Camp Chase, will be recollected by our readers.

GREENFIELD AND NEW PETERSBURG PIKE.

The petition for this road was dismissed by the county Commissioners at their late session.
No further application was made in behalf of the Greenfield and Martinsburg pike, nor of the Buford pike, and we suppose both may be considered as abandoned for the present.

Sheridan in Cincinnati.

The hero of Cedar Creek and "Five Forks" arrived in Cincinnati last Wednesday, on his way to Washington. He visited the Merchants' Exchange at noon, and was introduced to the merchants by Hon. Ben. Eggleston. At night he visited the National Theatre, and was repeatedly cheered by the large and excited audience. Mr. Murdoch, the great actor and elocutionist, was called on to recite Read's famous poem of "Sheridan's Ride," but excused himself on account of illness, and the poem was read by Miss Provost, a popular actress, the audience rising at the close and giving cheer after cheer for the brave but modest man. The Commercial thus describes the scene:

He stood up in the box, bowed his acknowledgments, and withdrew. Still the calls continued. The curtain rose again and Miss Provost entered, leading, my dragging, the abashed hero by both hands. The picture was irresistible. Every body applauded, and the fair mischief took the soldier standing alone in the middle of the stage before a whole army of eyes—Sheridan laughed outright, laid his hand on his heart, pointed mischievously at Miss Provost, and fairly ran from the field, vanquished.

After the performance at the theatre, Sheridan returned to the Burnet House, where an immense multitude had assembled, with a band, to secure him. Judge Storor introduced him to the people, and made an eloquent address of welcome, to which the hero modestly replied:

Gentlemen, I sincerely thank you for this very cordial welcome. I regret that I cannot make you a speech, but I thank you very much for your hearty welcome.

He remained standing on the balcony in sight of the assemblage while the band played a tune, at the close of which Judge Storor supplemented to his address the following happy remark:

You must remember that there have been two Sheridans; one the rhetorician, who wrote pages of eloquence; the other the soldier, who always made his mark with his sword.
With a round of hearty cheers, as the General retired to the parlor, the crowd left. For half an hour, however, he remained in the parlor, talking by the hand his friends and former associates in the army.

Deserters and Draft Sneaks.

Man who ran to Canada, to avoid fighting for his country, will be disfranchised by the Constitutional Amendment. Who says this is not just and right? A man who will desert his country in the hour of danger has no right to the privileges of a citizen. There are many of this class who now vote in Ohio, and they all vote the Democratic ticket. Let us adopt the Amendment, and they can vote no longer, and in their place, the Union party will gain about 7,000 loyal voters, whose votes may be a few shades darker than those of the "Canada Volunteers," but who never ran away when called upon to fight for the old flag, and thousands of whom nobly gave their lives in its defence.

MEETING OF REPUBLICAN GOV-ERNORS.—It is stated that the Republican Governors of the loyal States will
meet about the 1st of October, either

HIGHLAND CO. "DEMOCRACY."

Their Anti-War Record.

Extracts from the Hillsboro Gazette.

The columns of the Hillsboro Gazette, the recognized organ of the Democracy of this county, were filled with articles bitterly opposing the war, and sympathizing with the rebellion, during almost the entire progress of the struggle for the maintenance of the Union. We might, in proof of this assertion, fill our paper with extracts from editorials and communications appearing in that sheet, but it is only necessary to give a few specimens, from which the general tone of the paper may be judged.

In its issue of Jan. 23d, 1862, the editor spoke of Sumner-Pox having appeared in "Camp Mitchell," where Col. Trimble's regiment, the 60th Ohio, was encamped, and used this language:

"We can see no propriety whatever in people becoming excited on the subject. A people who are aided enough to engage in a fraternal civil war, for the purpose of shedding each other's blood, cannot complain if the Lord shall visit them with pestilence, disease and famine."

About this same time the editor expressed his "hope," that the notorious Jesse D. Bright, of Indiana, who was expelled from the U. S. Senate by a vote of 32 to 18, for writing a treason-able letter to Jeff. Davis, would be returned to that body! And since the close of the war, he has repeatedly expressed his "hope" that John C. Breckinridge, the blood-stained rebel and traitor, might again represent Kentucky in the Senate!

During his entire connection with the Gazette, he continually denounced the war, as "unholy," "unconstitutional," and an "undertaking and prosecuted for the express purpose of forcibly emancipating the slaves." So notoriously disloyal and hostile to the war were his utterances, that it was with difficulty the Union men, on several occasions, prevented the soldiers from destroying his press. This we personally know to be a fact.

In the fall of 1863, shortly before the overwhelming defeat of Vallandigham, the Gazette passed into the hands of W. H. Munnell. Though not a whit more vindictive or malevo-lent in his opposition to the war than his predecessor, Mr. Pike, Munnell had less discretion, and was more open and undisguised in the avowal of his sympathy for the rebel cause.
While he conducted the Gazette, its columns were illumined with many learned dissertations on the unconstitutionality of seceding sovereign States; the absurdity and folly of attempting to save the Union by year, and, ke. We make a few extracts from his editorials, as specimens of the doctrines taught the Highland Democracy by their organ, endorsed as such by the party at their Conventions, and therefore fairly to be taken as representing the sentiments of the party.

In his issue of July 14, 1864, he said:

"War for the Union" is nonsense.
It is a grand humbug, a deception to cheat you out of your liberties. War is disunion, war on the States is despo- sition, a denial of the right of self-government, and as sure as there is a God in Heaven will, if not speedily ended, fasten a consolidated despotism over all, more galling than exercised by TAMMANY. The Union is gone.
It is high time to strike for Liberty.
Liberty goes before Union. Without Liberty what are Union to us? The absolute rights of the citizens of the States is all that is left to us by this hellish war. Now or never is the time to strike for freedom!"

"O Liberty!" said a celebrated French philosopher, "what crimes are committed in thy name!" It was about this time that the writer of the above was drilling his band of secret, oath-bound, midnight conspirators, calling themselves "Sons of Liberty," whose sworn purpose was to resist the Government in its efforts to subdue the rebellion. "Liberty" was the object they professed to adore, while they were conspiring "in her name" to commit treason, the greatest of crimes.
And but for the timely discovery and exposure of their treasonable Order, in Indiana, and elsewhere, it is probable that a still darker page would have been added to the history of the rebellion, the horrors of a civil war in the North, waged by Northern Democrats against their Union neighbors, while our brave boys were absent, fighting the rebel foe in the South. That they were not involved in this bloody crime, and the terrible retribution it brought brought upon them, the "Sons of Liberty" should never cease to thank a just and merciful Providence, which overrules and directs the affairs of men and nations, and brings all the devices of wicked men to naught.

In the Gazette of August 11th, 18-65, we find in the editorial columns the following complimentary notice of our brave soldiers:

"When Lincoln first sent out his hordes, to overrun the South, each was provided with a Bible. The sword in one hand and the Bible in the other, they were considered highly characteristic of christian duty. The Bibles have long since been thrown away. There were too many negroes to steal, too many women to ruin, too many villages and private residences to be pil-laged and burnt."

Such was the atrocious language of the Democratic organ of this county in regard to our gallant men, who went forth to fight, and if need be to die, and whose liberties might be preserved, and more than three hundred thousand of whom gave their lives for their country. And now the men who endorsed and upheld the paper which put forth these doctrines, have the Satanic impudence to go about the

Ohio Union Platform.

The Republican Union Party of Ohio, in Convention assembled, declares:

1. That one of the great lessons of the war, is that the American people are a people, and not merely a confederacy of sovereign States, independent States.
2. That our existence as a nation is based on the great principles announced in the Declaration of Independence, and vindicated by the proclamation of emancipation, the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery, and the spirit of republicanism and justice which underlies the reconstruction policy of the thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congress, which we hereby fully endorse; and we demand shall be a complete effect by every means of additional legislation.

3. That while we will always cherish and defend the American system of local and municipal self-government of national purposes, and while we are unalterably opposed to all attempts at centralization or consolidation of power anywhere, we hold that liberty and human rights constitute our great national bond, which local or State organizations must not be allowed to abridge or destroy.

4. That infused with the spirit of true Democracy, and believing that the powers of government ought not to be restricted to a privileged class, but should be vested in the whole people, without unjust or odious distinctions of race, color, or religion, we demand that the rights of every citizen be equally attainable by all; and further, believing that these sentiments are in strict consonance with the spirit and tendency of modern civilization, we pledge to the simple and broad platform of impartial manhood suffrage, as embodied in the Constitution of the United States. Constitution, appealing to, and confiding in, the intelligence, justice and patriotism of the people of Ohio, to approve it at the ballot box.

5. That the American people owe a debt of lasting gratitude to the brave soldiers and sailors who, in the late struggle for our national existence, so nobly fought for our liberties, and for the privations, sufferings and sacrifices which they endured, the loyal men of Ohio hereby pledge to them, and to the widows and orphans of those who fell in defence of the nation, our sympathy and our untiring support.

6. That we approve and endorse the military administration of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Major General Phil. H.
Sheridan, in Louisiana and Texas, and pledge him, and the military commands in the several military districts of the United States, in their efforts to protect the loyal people of the late rebel States, and to secure the organization of local and constitutional governments in said States.

7. That we fully endorse and approve of the administration of our present Gov. J.
D. Cox, and extend to him our hearty thanks for the faithful and able manner in which he has discharged his official duties, and sustained the credit and honor of our noble State.

The Diamond Dickens.

DICKENS AND SIX.—The diamond edition of Dickens, the happy idea of Messrs. Ticknor and Fields, has exhibited an abundance of competition.
Several other cheap editions of the greatest of living novelists, have been concocted by New York and Philadelphia houses. But the Diamond edition maintains its supremacy, both because it was first in the field, and because it best fulfills the purpose of a cheap and readable reprint of Dickens's works. The volumes are in the right size to be carried in the pocket, taken into the car, or put into the right size to be carried in the pocket of a country-house. The illustrations, too, are fresh and striking.
The type is small, but so wonderfully clear, and impressed upon paper of so soft a tone, that the eyes are not injured thereby, must be already far on the road to blindness. It is no slight satisfaction, moreover, to know that a portion of the proceeds of this edition goes to the author—giving the reader the comfortable feeling that while he is enjoying the writer's many plot and thrilling style, he is at the same time an accomplice in a theft. "Diamond and Son" is the sixth volume of this delightful edition, and is every way equal to its predecessors. (Harvard Courant.)

The cost of each volume of the beautiful Illustrated Diamond Dickens is only $1.50; plain edition, $1.25. Every body ought to read Dickens, and everybody can afford to own this cheap and elegant edition. It can be procured of any bookseller, or will be sent postpaid by the Publishers, Ticknor and Fields, Boston, Mass.

DEMOCRAT'S "YOUNG AMERICA."

The present (October) number closes the first year of this popular juvenile periodical, which in that short space of time has won its way to thousands of children's hearts. Its toys, and colored illustrations, its "puzzle" pictures, and other quite original and attractive features, render it unique among periodicals for children; and we would advise them to drop in no time in renewing their subscriptions. Something very novel and attractive is promised for the Christmas holidays. Subscription price, $1-50, with a microscope, book, pocketknife, or other handsome premium.

Address, W. JENKINGS DEMOREST, 173 Broadway, New York.

Every Saturday.

This popular Weekly presents its readers just those portions of European current literature which every intelligent American wishes and needs to see. Omitting the heavier papers, discussions of topics of local interest, it gathers from all sources the readable and instructive articles which express the best current thought of England and the Continent, and with the utmost promptness places them before American readers. Any good story, any popular sketch or essay, any interesting semi-scientific paper, any striking poem, or literary intelligence appearing in a European periodical, is sure to reappear speedily in the pages of Every Saturday. It is published by Ticknor and Fields, Boston.

Marriages.

HUTCHINSON—ROSE, Sept. 26th, 1867, at Lanes Church, by the Rev. Dr. Bacon. Mr. J. H. Hutchinson of Cincinnati, and Miss Maria L. Rose, of this county.

This double is a bride,
Her husband good and young;
She is the highest prize, His golden things among.
I wish them well, I say, To angels ever remain them, All blessings on them pour,
And happiness attend them. A. D. G.

Ohio Union Platform.

The Republican Union Party of Ohio, in Convention assembled, declares:

1. That one of the great lessons of the
ereign States, independent States.
2. That our existence as a nation is based
Declaration of Independence, and vindic-
ated by the proclamation of emancipation,
the constitutional amendment abol-
ishing slavery, and the spirit of republican-
of additional legislation.

3. That while we will always cherish
abridge or destroy.

4. That infused with the spirit of true
Democracy, and believing that the powers
every citizen be equally attainable by all;
